Fall Conference October 1st 2021

The Fall Conference was held at the Melville Marriot Hotel. The title of our event was: Upgrade Your Teaching: Understanding by Design Meets Neuroscience. The presentation featured co-authors Jay McTighe and Judith Willis. This was our very first hybrid event with 215 participants. This included our Board Members. The presentation was based on their book. One memorable moment in the discussion included a reflection of the types of attention grabbing techniques our students are exposed to. We were further given examples of how to use thought provoking questions to grab our students attention while increasing rigor.
